

GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL PRESENTS:

Q: When Diets Fail,
What's Next?

A: Consider
Bariatric Surgery.

People who struggle with weight issues might see surgery as a last resort. But that thinking may be changing thanks to recent advances that physicians now embrace to help people improve their health and increase their quality of life. Join Marc Zare MD for wine, food and a lecture on developments in weight loss and bariatric surgery that Good Samaritan Hospital provides.

Guest Speaker:

Marc Zare MD FACS

(Fellow American College Surgeons)

Bariatric Medical Director, General Surgeon
